INTRODUCTION

Beginning at an early age, David Crighton's fascination with art and architecture developed into a career which combines them both. Since graduating from Central Technical School, Toronto in 1974 David Crighton has been recording the architectural diversity of Toronto & Southern Ontario with his distinctive style.

Consequently you can explore the extensive and ever expanding catalogue of images on this website. Pen and ink drawings with the addition of bright acrylic paint are the basic ingredients of David Crighton's art-making techniques. In addition to that he utilizes computer software to enhance the finished products by the insertion of custom lettering on various elements of the designs such as billboards and newsboxes. Corporate identities can be inserted in the form of company vehicles and logos. All the images on this site are available in any proportional size, larger as posters and smaller as notecards. Anything is possible.

The artworks represented on this website are printed on acid-free paper using archival quality inks upon which David adds significant touches of original colour by hand. The resulting limited edition prints are therefore each unique unto themselves. Some famous people are proud owners of Crighton artworks.

INTRODUCTION: How it's done

David paints the outline of the subject to give it a natural feel & character.

David finishes the work by completing details that give the work a fully realized depth.

INTRODUCTION: How it's done

David starts with a reference photo, in this case, a photo of Bevers Drugs, a store that no longer exists. David took a recent photo of the building to get the correct brick colour.

David works closely with the client to make sure that the appropriate colours are used.

COMMISSIONS

Commissions and customized artwork commissions, both private and corporate, are an important aspect of my creative life. As well as the challenge of meeting the client's requirements, I am rewarded by the interesting subject matter that I might otherwise never have had the pleasure of drawing and painting.

In addition to new original artworks I am able to "customize" the existing series of images in my various galleries. Inserting text into movie marquees and billboards for instance. Dedications can be specially printed along the bottom of the artwork when the recipient needs to be acknowledged for various reasons. I can insert additional buildings, signs, logos, vehicles and/or figures.

Anything you can imagine, within reason, I can make presentable for an additional fee. Custom images can be produced in various shapes, sizes and quantities. Once the artwork is finished it can be printed in various proportional sizes, formats, and utilized in many productive ways for use in websites for example.

Toronto concert promoters frequently purchase prints of venues as a gift to performers customized with their name and dates on the marquees. Massey Hall prints have been given to Jerry Seinfeld, Gordon Lightfoot, Bruce Cockburn, Pete Townsend, Robin Williams and many more. El Mocambo prints have been given to the Rolling Stones, Elvis Costello, Steve Goodman, Ronny Hawkins and many more. Other prints have been given to The Who, Eric Clapton, Neil Diamond, Carlos Santana, Sarah McLachlan, Diana Krall and many, many more. I'm sure you'll get the picture!

If you or your organization have a need for my services just contact my studio with an outline of your project and I'll prepare a quote and/or mock-up at no charge. I can produce faster but a few weeks are usually required for entirely original commissioned artwork.

On the following page are images showing various advertising applications David's artwork has been used for. The only limit is your imagination.
